

MyVoteBuddy

Relationship-based voter engagement

- Voting driven by people you trust
- Designed for follow up and accountability
- Built around real human connections

MyVoteBuddy.org

The Problem

People want to vote. They fall off.

- Busy schedules
- Confusing dates and rules
- No one checks back
- Intent does not equal action

MyVoteBuddy.org

The Insight

Trust changes behavior

- Friends outperform ads
- Personal reminders work
- Accountability increases follow through

MyVoteBuddy.org

The Idea

Be someone's Vote Buddy

- One person commits to one voter
- Remind and follow up
- Confirm the vote happened

MyVoteBuddy.org

How It Works

Simple and intentional

- Select a friend or neighbor
- Commit to helping them vote
- Track voting status
- Close the loop

MyVoteBuddy.org

Why It Matters

Local trust drives turnout

- Higher participation
- Less misinformation
- Stronger civic confidence

MyVoteBuddy.org

Who Uses It

Anyone with relationships

- Parents helping parents
- Students helping first-time voters
- Volunteers focused on outcomes
- Community leaders activating networks

MyVoteBuddy.org

What Makes It Different

Designed for action, not noise

- No mass messaging
- No spam
- No performative engagement

MyVoteBuddy.org

The Impact

Small numbers scale

- One person helps five
- Those five help five more
- Real votes get counted

MyVoteBuddy.org

The Ask

Start with one person

- Be a Vote Buddy
- Commit today
- Bring one voter with you
